Performance Management at the County of Orange

Performance management is a process to set expectations and align performance with critical business objectives. It is also a vehicle to provide feedback, recognition, and coaching throughout the year to best support employees' development and to ensure their work best contributes to our mission. When we engage in meaningful performance management, everyone benefits – the County, supervisors, employees, and our residents.

At the County of Orange, there are several performance management processes used to support supervisors and employees. Management employees all use a process called Ongoing Performance Conversations (OPC). Regardless of which process is used, it's important to fully engage in the process to achieve success.

Performance management is a core responsibility of all supervisors.

What is OPC?

Ongoing Performance Conversations (OPC) is a collaborative performance management process for employees and supervisors to partner for success. Rooted in conversations, OPC ensures alignment with business goals and a focus on development in order to drive performance, retention, and engagement.

Ultimately, OPC helps the County continue to deliver exceptional public service.

Many people think the performance process is about the paperwork that occurs once per year. In reality, performance management is a core aspect of the supervisor's day-to-day role. It's important to stay connected throughout the year to ensure a shared understanding of expectations, continued alignment, and ongoing support for development.

Stay Connected with OPC

OPC begins with performance planning where supervisors and employees discuss what success looks like in each of the core competencies and concludes with a year-end evaluation. In between, supervisors and employees meet regularly throughout the year for 1-on-1 meetings and Quarterly Check-In Conversations to stay on track and support development. The OPC process milestones support your success by helping you stay connected to each other, the business, and our mission.

Organizations with continuous performance processes are 39% better at attracting top talent, and 44% better at retaining talent (BetterWorks, 2020).

OPC Milestones

Performance Planning

The supervisor and employee collaborate to review expectations in competency areas and discuss success criteria for the evaluation cycle.

Quarterly Check-In Conversation

Pause and expand the conversation beyond day-to-day projects or assignment progress. The first Quarterly Check-In occurs 3 months after the start of the performance cycle, followed by the second Quarterly Check-In 3 months later.

Year-End Evaluation

The cycle concludes with the final evaluation. You'll reflect on performance throughout the entire cycle during this performance step. The supervisor will meet with their direct report to discuss overall performance, impact, successes, strengths, and what's next. Each employee will receive an evaluation at the end of the performance cycle.

1-on-1 Check-Ins

What happens in between the performance milestones? Holding regular 1-on-1 meetings provides an opportunity for consistent coaching and feedback throughout the duration of the cycle. These conversations occur between process milestones and help you stay aligned in the ebb and flow of the day-to-day.

OPC, Powered by Eureka

Powered by Eureka, you will have access to all things performance in one convenient platform. The online convenience of Eureka makes the new process easy to use, administratively light, and provides helpful tools to facilitate meaningful performance management. With OPC, you'll spend less time filling out forms, and more time focusing on what matters most – our employees.

NO MORE SHUFFLING PAPERS

NEVER MISS ANOTHER DEADLINE

Automated reminders help you stay on track with performance milestones.

COACHING MADE EASY

3 Core Tools

There are no paper forms to complete with OPC. Instead, OPC is powered by Eureka, which means that all your performance tasks are centrally located within the system. In addition to the benefits of OPC, Eureka will help you:

- Ensure the process is meaningful with templates that take the guesswork out of conversations
- Never miss another deadline with automated reminders
- Stay connected and aligned with ongoing conversations and streamlined tools

There are three (3) core tools within the system that you can use throughout the performance process.

 Automated Milestone Workflows	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Email reminders ensure you never miss another deadline.</li><li>• Prompts help you stay consistent with process milestones.</li></ul>
 Check-In Tool	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Templates take the guesswork out of what to discuss.</li><li>• All notes available in one convenient location</li><li>• Follow-up features help you remember action items.</li></ul>

Technology helps make the process easier so that you can spend more time on what matters most - our employees.

Roles and Responsibilities

The performance management process is collaborative and involves three primary players - the employee, the supervisor, and the reviewer.

The Employee

- Maintain awareness of dates related to the performance cycle.
- Understand the core components of the process.
- Reflect on performance, and actively incorporate insights and feedback from others.
- Actively collaborate with the supervisor to identify performance plans and success measures, engage with feedback, and focus on development.

The Supervisor

- Be aware of performance cycle dates and proactively plan to meet deadlines.
- Partner with the employee to identify competency expectations to support the success of the employee, team, and organization.
- Actively engage in ongoing coaching conversations to support development.
- Ask the reviewer for resources and advocacy to support employee development.

The Reviewer

- Be aware of performance cycle dates and ensure deadlines are met.
- Ensure the supervisor is trained on the OPC process and coach them throughout the process.
- Share department strategy and goals to support alignment.
- Obtain Department Head approval for any overall ratings of 'Exceeds' or 'Exceptional.'

Everyone is responsible for:

- Following process timelines
- Understanding and fulfilling your role responsibilities
- Working collaboratively together
- Being open to receiving and giving feedback

Fulfilling your responsibilities ensures the process is meaningful, which drives engagement up by 14% and performance up by 24%.

OPC Competencies

OPC includes seven (7) core competencies which reflect important areas of performance and the attributes that are required for each County management employee to be successful. Together, these main components help you and the employee define what success looks like, support their development, and stay aligned for business and service outcomes.

Competencies are the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed by all County employees to be successful in their job.

The following competencies are specific to all management employees using the OPC process.

Competency Ratings

Each competency has specific descriptive statements to define expectations. During the year-end evaluation, supervisors will rate each statement on a 4-point scale. The average of those ratings will result in the overall competency rating. Ratings are based on overall performance throughout the cycle. The overall evaluation rating is an average of the seven (7) competency ratings.

Average of 7 competencies = Overall Performance Rating

Rating	Description
Needs Improvement (1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Performance improvement and/or skill development needed to increase effectiveness and meet competency expectations.</li><li>• Requires closer supervision than is necessary for the job.</li></ul>
Meets Performance Objectives (2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Performance normally meets and sometimes exceeds competency expectations for the position.</li><li>• Proficient in the performance of responsibilities expected for the position.</li></ul>
Exceeds Performance Objectives (3)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Performance frequently rises above competency expectations for the position.</li><li>• Is often a model or mentor for others in the competency area.</li></ul>
Demonstrates Exceptional Performance (4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Performance is consistently, substantially above competency expectations for the position.</li><li>• Is a model or mentor for others in the competency area.</li></ul>

Rating Approvals

An overall evaluation rating of 'Exceeds' or 'Exceptional' requires Department Head approval. Reviewers may approve overall evaluation ratings of 'Meets.' Supervisors should collaborate with Human Resources for any overall evaluation ratings of 'Needs Improvement' prior to meeting with the employee.

Merit Increases

Overall Rating	Merit Increase
Needs Improvement (1)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>No merit increase.</li> <li>Reviewer approval required.</li> <li>Consult with Human Resources.</li> </ul>
Meets Performance Objectives (2)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>3% merit increase, not to exceed Advertised Maximum.</li> <li>Reviewer approval required.</li> </ul>
Exceeds Performance Objectives (3)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>6% merit increase, not to exceed Advertised Maximum.</li> <li>Reviewer and Department Head* approval required.</li> </ul>
Demonstrates Exceptional Performance (4)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>9% merit increase, not to exceed the Exceptional Performance Maximum.</li> <li>Reviewer and Department Head* approval required.</li> </ul>

* Use the Department Head Approval Form to secure approval from your Department Head. This form must be submitted to HR in order for the evaluation to be processed.

Reminders

- Supervisors are required to meet with staff at the beginning of the cycle (as part of the Performance Planning step) to discuss the performance competencies and what success looks like within their role. This is the opportunity to personalize the competencies to the scope and nuances of the employee's role.
- There are no rating quotas.
- There are only two requirements that need to be met in order to sign off on an evaluation: (1) The County rating criteria must be followed, and (2) The assessment must be accurate and reflect performance from the entire cycle.

PERFORMANCE PLANNING

Performance Planning

Perhaps one of the most basic of employee needs in the workplace is knowing what success on the job looks like. This is why the OPC performance cycle begins with Performance Planning.

The Performance Planning conversation is an opportunity to communicate clear expectations, providing the employee with a roadmap for success. It is intended to empower employees to collaboratively determine priorities, providing them with an active role in determining what their success looks like. Through performance planning, supervisors can help staff support the County's mission.

Three Core Tools

There are three core tools to help you through the Performance Planning process.

Automated Milestone Workflow

You'll receive system emails when a task is assigned to you, helping you stay on track with deadlines.

Check-In Templates

The Performance Planning Check-In template takes the guesswork out of what to discuss.

The Workflow

Performance planning occurs at the beginning of the cycle and should be completed within 30 days of the start of the cycle. The image below highlights the Performance Planning workflow.

The Conversation

We recommend using the Check-In template to guide your conversation and take notes. During the performance planning conversation, you'll discuss:

- Expectations for each of the seven (7) competency areas
- How to build on past successes from the prior cycle
- Growth opportunities and areas for development

Tips for Holding the Performance Planning Conversation

5 Steps to Prepare for Effective Performance Planning

STEP 1: SCHEDULE A MEETING WITH THE EMPLOYEE

- Schedule a 1-hour meeting to meet with your direct report. The meeting should be in a private setting, such as your office, conference room, or virtual meeting.
- We highly recommend using the Check-In tool to guide your performance conversation.

STEP 2: PREPARE FOR YOUR CONVERSATION

- Review your notes:
  - You may want to review previous evaluations, notes from your performance conversations and the employee's job description.
  - Reviewing these documents can help you determine how the employee can contribute to achieving the overall mission of the County.

STEP 3: REVIEW THE CORE COMPETENCIES

- The seven (7) competencies were defined by the County of Orange as critical to success for management employees.
- Each competency is comprised of descriptive statements. These statements assist in providing clear definitions that ensure all County management employees are evaluated consistently.

STEP 4: REVIEW THE COMPETENCY RATING CRITERIA

- During the year-end evaluation, supervisors will rate each descriptive statement on a 4-point scale. The average of those ratings will result in the overall competency rating.
- Ratings are based on overall performance throughout the cycle.

STEP 5: REVIEW THE CHECK-IN TOOL TEMPLATE

- Ahead of your conversation, review the Check-In tool template for performance planning.
  - This tool serves as a guide, focusing your conversation on high-impact topics.

Questions to Support High Impact Performance Conversations

You'll discuss expectations for each of the seven competency areas, build on past successes from the prior cycle and identify growth opportunities and areas for development. Unsure of how to guide the conversation? Use these conversation starters to help kick things off. Choose a few questions from each category to guide your conversation. We recommend using the Performance Planning Check-In template to stay on track and take notes.

REFLECT ON YOUR DIRECT REPORT'S ROLE AND YOUR TEAM.

5 Reflection Questions for You (the Supervisor!)

- What are the team's priorities?
- What are the individual's strengths?
- How can they best contribute to the priorities?
- What does success look like for the role?
- How can you support learning and growth for your team?

REFLECT ON YOUR ROLE.

5 Reflection Questions for You (the Employee!)

- What would it look like if you were wildly successful in the coming year?
- How does that potential compare with what you are focused on today?
- What would help you bridge the gap between that future and today?

ENGAGE IN MEANINGFUL DIALOGUE ABOUT PERFORMANCE AND SUCCESS IN THE ROLE.

Choose a question based on what you know about your employee:

- Given our priorities and mandates, where do you think you should focus your work this cycle?
- Imagine it's one year from now. What would you like to say you've accomplished? What will you have learned?
- What support do you need from me? What's working? What do you want more of? What could I do differently?

QUARTERLY CHECK-IN

Quarterly Check-In Conversation

Since the planning conversation, you've been engaged in ongoing conversations (1-on-1 Check-Ins) with your employees. Quarterly Check-In Conversations provide the opportunity to focus on the big picture and overall performance. This milestone is focused on maintaining alignment and supporting success.

There are two Quarterly Check-In (QCI) Conversations in the OPC process.

- QCI #1 occurs 3 months after Performance Planning
- QCI #2 occurs 3 months after the first Quarterly Check-In.

Three Core Tools

There are three core tools to help you through the Quarterly Check-In Conversation.

Automated Milestone Workflow

You'll receive system emails when a task is assigned to you, helping you stay on track with deadlines.

Check-In Templates

The Check-In template takes the guesswork out of what to discuss and ensures continuity.

Reference Resources

On-demand eLearning courses and Snap Guides help you quickly learn the basics of the Quarterly Check-In.

The Workflow

The workflow for the Quarterly Check-In milestone is similar to Performance Planning. The task will follow the workflow, beginning with the supervisor and ending with the employee. The image below highlights the Quarterly Check-In workflow.

The Conversation

We recommend using the Check-In template to guide your conversation and take notes. During the Quarterly Check-In conversation, you'll discuss:

- Performance so far this quarter within each of the seven (7) competency areas, including key accomplishments, strengths, and development areas
- Overall progress ('progressing well' or 'not progressing well') for the current evaluation cycle

Learn more about Check-Ins beginning on page 35.

Tips for Holding the Quarterly Check-In Conversation

3 Steps to Prepare for Effective Quarterly Check-Ins

STEP 1: REVIEW YOUR NOTES.

- Review your Performance Planning Check-In for the notes you and your employee added at the start of the evaluation cycle.
- Review your 1-on-1 Check-In for notes you've collected throughout the evaluation cycle. The Check-In tool helps employees and supervisors have ongoing conversations and drive alignment, coaching, and continuous performance development.

STEP 2: REFLECT ON THEMES FROM THIS QUARTER.

- Your conversation will focus on the following topics:
  - Performance in competency areas, including strengths and opportunities for continued development
  - Key accomplishments
  - Overall progress toward meeting expectations in competency areas
- Reflect on the topics above in preparation for your conversation. What themes have emerged?

STEP 3: PREPARE TO SHARE YOUR FEEDBACK.

- When giving feedback, focus on the impact of behaviors on the department, strategy, and work efficiency, rather than simply expressing likes or dislikes. Emphasizing the impact provides the 'so what' of the feedback and clarifies why taking action matters.
- Ensure that you identify specific examples for each of your responses. While you have likely shared these throughout the evaluation cycle already, this is a great opportunity for reinforcement. Examples provide helpful context for understanding the situation and clarifying behaviors to continue or change.

Quarterly Check-In Conversation Starters

Questions to Support High Impact Performance Conversations

You'll discuss strengths, areas for development, and accomplishments during the Quarterly Check-In. Unsure of how to guide the conversation? Use these conversation starters to help kick things off. Choose a few questions from each category to guide your conversation. We recommend using the Quarterly Check-In template to stay on track and take notes.

WHAT'S WORKED?

Use these questions to learn about successes from the last three months.

- What was your biggest accomplishment during this quarter?
- What do you believe your strengths are? How have you been able to leverage them so far during this evaluation cycle?
- What do you enjoy the most about your work? Which parts of your current job bring you the most satisfaction or greatest sense of accomplishment?

WHAT'S HAPPENING NOW?

Use these questions to understand the employee's progress, discuss performance in competency areas, and explore lessons learned and areas of growth.

- What experiences have you challenged yourself with this cycle?
- What were your biggest lessons learned this cycle?
- What one or two areas, if worked on, would have the most impact on your performance and success?
- How do you think we are doing as a team?
- Where does our team excel?
- What one thing I could do differently to have the biggest impact on our team's effectiveness?

WHAT'S NEXT?

Use these questions to discuss future goals and how you can continue to support them.

- What are your most important goals for the next quarter?
- Where do you want to focus your efforts for continued development?
- How can I support you?

Year-End Evaluation

The final evaluation should not be a surprise; it is a summary of all feedback conversations that have occurred throughout the cycle. It's also an opportunity to reflect on performance throughout the whole of the cycle and discuss steps for building upon past successes and integrating lessons learned. While this final step is documented, the heart of it is truly the conversation that occurs. The following will provide you with information for successfully completing this process, as well as guidance for holding an impactful conversation.

The Conversation

During the Year-End Evaluation conversation, you'll discuss:

- Overall performance in the (7) competency areas

Supervisor's At-A-Glance Guide to the Completing Year-End Evaluation

Below is an overview of the supervisor's responsibility for the Year-End Evaluation. Access additional resources listed below for more detailed information.

STEP 1: SCHEDULE YOUR YEAR-END CONVERSATION.

- Schedule a 1-hour meeting with your employee in a private setting such as your office.
- The evaluation must be approved by the Reviewer (and Department Head, if necessary) prior to holding the meeting with the employee. Ensure you schedule the meeting far enough into the future to allow sufficient time to secure necessary approvals.
- Log into Eureka and complete the performance step by confirming you've scheduled the meeting. Completing this step will unlock the rating portion of the evaluation.

STEP 2: REFLECT ON YEAR-LONG THEMES.

- Review notes from your Check-Ins, including 1-on-1s, Performance Planning, and Quarterly Check-Ins. Consider the following when reflecting:
  - What worked really well for the employee?
  - What are the employee's strengths?
  - What are one or two areas, if worked on, that would have the most impact on the employee's performance and success?
- Solicit input from the employee.
- Solicit input from your supervisoranager or peers if your employee works directly or interacts with them. Review 'kudos' emails or those indicating a concern about performance.

The employee also receives an email at the same time you do. Their email prompts them to email a list of accomplishments for consideration when completing ratings.

Supervisor's At-a-Glance Guide to Completing the Year-End Evaluation

STEP 3: COMPLETE THE YEAR-END RATINGS SUMMARY IN EUREKA.

- Log into Eureka and complete the Year-End Ratings Summary, which includes:
  - Core Competency ratings
  - Focused Feedback (only required for overall ratings of Needs Improvement)
  - Probation Status

The workflow will route to the reviewer (your supervisor) after you complete this step. Wait until the reviewer approves the evaluation before holding your conversation with the employee.

STEP 4: HOLD YOUR YEAR-END CONVERSATION.

- Once the Reviewer acknowledges the evaluation, it's time to meet with your Employee for the Year-End Conversation. You will discuss overall performance, including strengths and development areas, key accomplishments, and performance ratings. View the Conversation Starters for a suggested framework for this conversation.

STEP 5: APPLY YOUR E-SIGNATURE IN EUREKA.

- Back in Eureka, conclude your steps by acknowledging the evaluation with your e-signature.
- The workflow will then route to the employee to acknowledge the evaluation. The evaluation is not considered complete until the employee completes this step.

Overall ratings of Exceeds or Exceptional require approval from the Reviewer and Department Head. Forward the Department Head Approval Form to HR if it has not already been submitted.

Conversation Starters for the Year-End Evaluation

Questions to Support High Impact Performance Conversations

Use this conversation starters below as a framework to guide your year-end conversation. These questions are designed to facilitate reflection about what worked this evaluation period and use that as a springboard for the future.

START WITH THE SUCCESSES

Starting the conversation on a positive note will create momentum for a productive conversation.

- What are you proudest of having accomplished this year?
- Where did you grow the most this year?
- How were you able to leverage your strengths?

REFLECT ON PERFORMANCE IN COMPETENCY AREAS

The competencies were defined by the County of Orange as critical to success for Management Employees.

You should have provided your employee with feedback throughout the evaluation cycle. In this conversation, you can summarize your feedback. Make sure to include examples of specific, behaviorally-based observations of the employee's performance.

Like the other conversations, let your employee lead by asking key questions to solicit their perspectives on where they excelled, lessons learned/growth, and where they should focus efforts going forward.

STAY FUTURE-FOCUSED

Find out what goals the employee has for their career.

Talk about the skills and experience needed for the employee to accomplish their career goals. How can they use insights and lessons learned from this cycle going forward? You may consider asking one of the following:

- What one or two areas would have the most impact on your performance if you focused on developing them?
- What do you see as the next step in your career?
- How do you see your personal goals aligning with team goals and the organization's mission?

OFFER YOUR SUPPORT

Be intentional in how you word your questions so that you make it safe for your employee to provide feedback.

Mix up the questions you use to ask for feedback during these milestone conversations and 1-on-1s to promote critical thinking, reflection, and avoid rote responses. Here are two alternatives to the conversation starters we highlighted in the midcycle checkpoint:

- What's working?
- What do you want more of?

Reviewer's Guide to the Year-End Evaluation

Below is an overview of the Reviewer's responsibility for the Year-End Evaluation. Access additional resources listed below for more detailed information.

Your Role During the Year-End Evaluation:

- Ensure timely completion of the process.
- Ensure evaluations adhere to the County's performance rating criteria, and are an accurate representation of performance throughout the cycle.

Eureka Navigation:

- You will receive an email when the workflow advances and is ready for your review.
- Regardless of the overall rating, confirm the following criteria are met:
  - Ratings are an accurate reflection of the employee's performance
  - Ratings are applied consistent with the County definitions.
- Additionally, complete the following steps for the following overall ratings:
  - Needs Improvement: Confirm a narrative is included in the Focused Feedback section. Consult with HR prior to issuing an evaluation with this rating.
  - Exceeds and Exceptional: Department Head approval is required. Complete the Department Head Approval Form and submit to HR.

If changes are needed, you may reopen the step to send it back to the supervisor. Meet to discuss needed changes or questions.

Department Head Approval:

- If required, obtain Department Head Approval for the overall performance rating via the Department Head Approval Form. Do not sign off on evaluations with overall ratings of 'Exceeds' or 'Exceptional' until you receive Department Head approval.

This process requires a separate form, outside of Eureka. Access the form here: <https://bit.ly/OPCPM>.

E-Signature in Eureka:

- Back in Eureka, conclude your steps by acknowledging the evaluation with your e-signature.

Eureka will update once the employee's separation is processed by HR.</li> </ul>
Promotional Probationary Failure	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The employee will return to their former classification provided they were not in the previous class for the purposes of training for a promotion to the higher class.</li> <li>Upon return, the employee will follow the evaluation and merit dates that they had in their former classification.</li> <li>Supervisors should only consider time in the former classification when completing the evaluation. Supervisors should not reference the promotional probationary failure in the evaluation narrative.</li> </ul>
Probation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Probation approval is integrated into the annual evaluation. Make the selection when completing the year-end evaluation.</li> <li>Any deferrals or releases should be discussed with Human Resources and are not documented via the evaluation process.</li> </ul>
Promotion	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Upon promotion, new evaluation dates will be established beginning with the effective date of the promotion.</li> </ul>

Employee Status Change	OPC Action Steps
Temporary Promotion	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Employees on temporary promotion do not participate in OPC.</li> <li>• Employees on temporary promotion are not entitled to a merit increase in the temporary classification.</li> <li>• Supervisors should still set performance expectations with the temporarily promoted employee and meet regularly for 1-on-1s.</li> <li>• When the temporary promotion ends, the employee will follow the evaluation and merit dates that they had in their former classification.</li> </ul>
New Employee Probationary Release	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Employees who are released on New Hire Probation do not require an evaluation. Use the Co-Planner feature to give the previous supervisor access to complete the performance task.</li> <li>If the employee transfers at some point during the cycle, but before the last three months, the "new" supervisor is responsible for completing the evaluation and should contact the previous supervisor for input to consider when completing the final evaluation.</li> </ul>
Separation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>No performance review is required for employees separating for any reason, including retirement.</li> </ul>

Supervisory Changes

It's important to ensure that the performance evaluation is reflective of performance throughout the entirety of the review period. Below are expectations and guidelines for supervisors to follow if the employee was supervised by more than one person throughout the evaluation period.

- Supervisor Rotations: When supervisors transfer, the incoming supervisor should meet with the previous supervisor to discuss performance of team members. This information should be considered when completing the evaluation.
- Employee Transfers: See supervisor expectations for scenarios related to employee transfers under 'Lateral Transfer' in the table above.
